

For 2010 we are changing our venue for our Sovereignty Day Celebration. For the past two years this event was held at the Osage Million Dollar Elm Casino Event Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Although the Event Center proved to be a great event location, our Sovereignty Day celebration has outgrown this facility. Our decision is to bring the event up to Pawhuska and hold it at the Osage County Fairgrounds, just south of Pawhuska, Oklahoma. The fairgrounds has two facilities that will allow us room for booth space and more vendor action at this year's celebration. We will use the Ag Building as our main facility and the Women's building for additional staging and dressing rooms.

This is a great opportunity for traditional and non-traditional Osages to participate together in celebration of our Nation. Bring your lawn chairs, visit the booths. Traditional Dinner will be served at 5:00p.m.

As soon as the final agenda is completed, we will post it to the website and in the next edition of Osage News.

To apply for booth space or vendor space: Attached is a vendor application for booth space. Booth space will be limited, so contact us as soon as possible to reserve space.
